

What to do if a customer asks questions about allergens?

1. If a customer asks if a food contains a particular ingredient always check, don't guess.
2. When making food, keep a record of all the ingredients
3. If you change the ingredients of a food make sure you inform your manager so they can update the ingredients information.
4. If a customer asks you to make food that doesn't contain a certain ingredient, don't say yes unless you are certain it doesn't contain that ingredient.
5. If you are making food for someone with an allergy always make sure your work surfaces and equipment have been thoroughly cleaned. Always wash your hands thoroughly before preparing the food

Common Allergens

What to do if a customer has an allergic reaction?

Signs of Allergic reaction

You may not always know if someone is having an allergic reaction, other serious conditions can have similar symptoms. Warning signs to look for are difficulty breathing, swollen mouth or lips, if they collapse etc.

1. Do not move the customer, you could make them worse, call for a first aider straight away
2. Call 999 immediately and describe the situation, explain that you think it is a serious allergic reaction
3. Ask the customer if they carry an adrenaline pen (commonly known as an EpiPen), if so you may need to help then retrieve it. If the first aider is trained in administering the adrenaline and the customer is struggling offer to assist them
4. Make sure there is someone waiting with the customer whilst someone else waits outside for the ambulance
